

{SF–SanFrancisco}

Delivery Toilet

App

Seren&Feifey x SVA ixD Y1 Hello–World

Nov 03, 2025

Agenda

Meet the Team
Problem Statement
Research
Hypothesis
Interview
Q&A

Meet the Team

Seren Kim Founder

Interaction Designer with Software Engineer
Background, based in
Seoul/NewYork

Feifey Wang
CO-Founder

Interaction Designer with a graphic design
background, based in London/NewYork/Taipei.

Problem Statement

“Delivery drivers face difficulties accessing restrooms while working, which undermines their health and professional dignity.”

Problem Statement

Challenge #1
Limited Physical Access to Restrooms

Delivery drivers have insufficient access to available & accessible restroom facilities during their routes.

Challenge #2
Health and Safety Risks

The inability to use restrooms regularly creates significant health risks and unsafe workarounds for drivers.

Challenge #3
Systemic and Dignity Issues

Current delivery work structures and social infrastructure fail to support drivers' basic human needs and dignity.

rjAskUK • 2 yr. ago

BlundeRuss

A delivery driver just asked if he could use my toilet - what would you say?

Just a courier delivering a small parcel. "Can I just use your loo quickly?" Never had that before.

 18

 Reply

 Award

 Share

YehYeh • 2y ago

Many pees in bottles my husband used to do. People just would say no and you are delivering in a residential estate in the middle of nowhere.

 18

 Reply

 Award

 Share

ThePerpetualWanderer • 2y ago

Single female in the house and a burly man delivering? Maybe not, from a personal safety perspective.

A delivery driver I've seen multiple times? Sure thing, it's a crap job with a lot of time pressure on them and when nature calls it's tough to find somewhere.

I feel for delivery drivers in these situations but I'd make my decision on a case by case basis.

 387

 Reply

 Award

 Share

7285381 • 2y ago

Agree from a safety perspective I would say no. There's also a large supermarket a 3 min drive from my house so I would suggest they went there.

I also don't have a downstairs loo and I wouldn't feel comfortable letting a complete stranger upstairs in my house.

 84

 Reply

 Award

 Share

2 more replies

How people react to the “need of delivery driver asking to use their toilet”.

Seren&Feifey

Have a question? Ask the community. It's free. (Moderated)

Summary

1. Main Point

Drivers should never pee in the van or outside randomly. Always stop at a gas station, Walmart, or other public restroom.

2. What Not to Do

- Don't pee in the back of the van, on boxes, in totes, or in bottles.
- Don't pee in people's yards, grass, or behind dumpsters.
- Don't leave pee bottles lying around.

1. Why

- It's unsanitary and disrespectful for others who share the space.
- It can cost you your job—some drivers have been fired for this.
- It harms your health and professional reputation.

1. Advice

- Plan ahead and schedule bathroom stops.
- Stay hydrated but manage your water intake wisely.

Drivers sharing their experience on how they usually deal with the need.

Hello-World

got2gonyc

communal | private | recycled

Home

Next to City

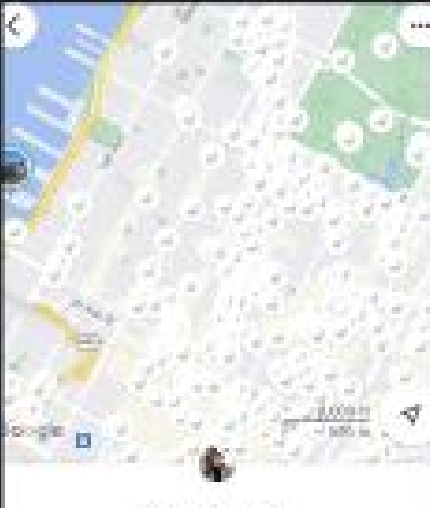

Community

Press

Map

Stories

Shop

NYC Bathroom Map

From the creator of got2gonyc, a free open-source map to help everyone who has to go to the bathroom in NYC find public restrooms, public bathrooms, restrooms, parking lots, and places to pee. The map also includes a comprehensive list of public restrooms in NYC. The map also includes a comprehensive list of public restrooms in NYC.

Find the location of the bathroom.

Available for the web, as well as a free to download on a phone.

As a donation, please help us keep the map free and open.

Let's Chat

Amazon drivers in LA say there's rarely time to use a bathroom. Their solution? Peeing in a bottle

By Makenzie Stewartson
Published Nov 29, 2024 5:00 AM

Drivers Beg for Relief Bill to Allow More Parking for Bathroom Breaks and Rest

For-hire drivers who work for companies like Uber and Lyft often struggle with urinary issues and have a hard time finding bathrooms during long shifts, advocates testified in the City Council.

Existing informations & Other problems that drivers are encountering.

Hypothesis

1. If drivers make purchases or demonstrate good manners when using restrooms, businesses will consistently allow access.

Rating system between the the drivers and the estate holder, ex: rating system between the uber driver and the costumers.

2. Existing restroom-finding apps lack information about parking availability, making them practically useless for drivers.

In app, build – driver putting down where their delivery address is and it automatically calculates where is the nearest toilet & parking spot that is available. (ex: google map calculate)

Questionnaire

The real-world challenges that delivery and ride share drivers face during their work shifts — specifically around restroom access and parking.

<https://forms.gle/oAcqw23Fmesjp1Dk9>

NYC Driver Restroom Access & Work Experience Survey 🚕 🚚

Thank you for taking the time to complete this survey! 🙏

We are graduate students at the School of Visual Arts (SVA) in New York City, conducting research on the real-world challenges that delivery and rideshare drivers face during their work shifts — especially around restroom access and parking.

This short survey takes about 5 minutes to complete.

All responses are anonymous and used solely for academic research purposes to help us better understand the needs of NYC's driver community.

Your insights will help highlight everyday problems and could contribute to designing better systems, policies, or tools that make drivers' work easier and more dignified.

If you have any questions, feel free to reach out to us:

✉️ newyorksanfrancisco201@gmail.com

Thank you for sharing your experience — we truly appreciate your time and perspective! 🚕

Thank you!

Reach out to us if you have questions.

newyorksanfrancisco201@gmail.com

